

Electric Vehicle Charging

The nearest public charging point to Hillside Cottage is at the Willow Car Park in Mevagissey, about 10 minutes' (4 miles) drive away. The Willow Car Park is perfectly situated to explore the picturesque harbour town of Mevagissey. For more information please check www.pod-point.com

There are also public charge points at Asda in St Austell via the BP Pulse network. Some of the major attractions also offer free to use (and faster paid charging) such as The Eden Project.

For further information on charging points locally please check www.zap-map.com which is being constantly updated. It may be necessary to phone ahead to ensure access and availability.

We are investigating the possibility of installing an EV point here at Hillside Cottage but until we have a dedicated charging point we respectfully request that you do not attempt to charge an electric vehicle via any of the property's electric sockets.

Our Fire Risk Assessment has highlighted that the domestic electrical system is not suitable for charging electric vehicles via the standard plug sockets so a dedicated system would need to be installed. Furthermore as we have no external sockets charging via a lead through a window would compromise the security of the property contravening our Insurance.

Please note that due to the Fire Risk Assessment and Insurance requirements charging of an Electric Vehicle at Hillside Cottage is strictly prohibited. Thank you for your understanding.
